

Tiger and Cheetah

A tiger is a mammal. They are orange with black and white stripes. Tigers live in grassy lands. They can also live in forests. A tiger is a meat eater. It hunts for food such as pigs and deer. A tiger is very quiet when it hunts. They have sharp teeth. They also have powerful paws. Many people hunt tigers. They want to use their fur and bones. Sadly, there are not as many tigers now as there were in the past.

A cheetah is a mammal, as well. A cheetah is the fastest mammal! It has a tan body with black spots. The cheetah also lives in grassy lands. Like the tiger, they are meat eaters. Cheetahs eat small animals such as hares. Cheetah's are also in danger of becoming extinct.
